

Start Over (feat. NF)

Flame

"Start Over"

(feat. NF)Everybody's got a blank page

A story they're writing today

A wall that they're climbing

You can carry the past on their shoulders

Or you can start over

Regrets, no matter what you goin' through

Jesus, He gave it all to save you

He carried the cross on His shoulders

So you can start overDon't let your heart be troubled

Don't be afraid

To the broken hearted that wished that they'd

Never been born, never been torn, never sinned, never disobeyed

I know you think there's no hope, but that ain't true

I know you feelin' regret

(Like I) brought this all on myself

(Like I) messed it up big time, and this time I don't deserve God's help

(Thinking) how can God forgive me after knowin' what I did (can He?)

After knowin' that I hid from Him, and I stayed away and backslid, listen

Jesus came for the sick (so true)

Jesus came for the weak (amen)

Jesus came to give good news and have set the captives free (amen)

Jesus came for the poor (amen)Jesus came with the keys

Jesus came to remove the chains so the prisoners are released

Everybody's got a blank page

A story they're writing today

You can carry the past on their shoulders

Or you can start over

Regrets, no matter what you goin' throughJesus, He gave it all to save you

He carried the cross on His shoulders

So you can start overSee, His love is deeper than the ocean floor

Run to His arms like an open door

God the Father sent the Son

So men can come and be free and ain't gotta run no more

Come to me, all who are weary; with heavy burdens, I'll give you rest

Separated you from the sin, as far as the east is from the west

Thrown in the sea of forgetfulness

What sin? What offense?

And when them waves come crashing in, I'll calm the winds in your defense

So, whatever it is that you've done

He put that punishment on His Son

You'll never come under His condemnation... Satan and his accusations
So, dry your eyes, lift up your head
Hallelujah! God is not dead! Plus He gave us His peace, and He took our guilt on the cross instead
Took our place and now we embrace
A clean slate with the eyes of faith
We know unfailing love, unfailing love, it's not too late to start over Everybody's got a blank page
A story they're writing today
A wall that they're climbing
You can carry the past on their shoulders
Or you can start over
Regrets, no matter what you goin' through
Jesus, He gave it all to save you
He carried the cross on His shoulders
So you can start over
